

"The world we have created has outstripped our capacity to understand it... We are struggling as professionals and in our private lives to meet the demands they are placing on traditional models of organisation, understanding and action... This is a conceptual emergency."

"Changed circumstances can be seized as opportunities for creative engagement and, rather than generating resistance, generate a step change in learning and growth."

"The leaders who emerge in this period, to whom we will turn for inspiration and guidance, will be those who are best able to articulate and to embody with authenticity the lineaments of a new approach sketched in these pages."

International Futures Forum (IFF)

IFF is a non-profit organisation established to support a transformative response to complex and confounding challenges and to restore the capacity for effective action in today's powerful times.

Ten Things To Do In A Conceptual Emergency records IFF's learning over seven years on how to take more effective and responsible action in a world we do not understand and cannot control.

If the idea of a conceptual emergency was wacky and original when it was taken up in the first edition of this booklet, it now appears inescapable. This second edition has been expanded and updated with seven inspirational case studies from around the world, generated by the work of IFF.

Available at a special conference discount from www.triarchypress.com or fill out the order form on the inside page.
